Microcnesa

In the heart of the Pacific, where the waters gleam,

Lies Micronesia, a land of dreams.

Islands scattered like stars in the night,

Each one a beacon, a shimmering light.

Palms sway gently in the tropical breeze,

Whispering secrets to the azure seas.

Coral reefs, a vibrant, living art,

Guard the shores, a treasure to impart.

Ancient legends in the island air,

Stories of ancestors, brave and fair.

In Micronesia, time flows slow,

A paradise where nature's wonders grow.

Oh, Micronesia, with your endless skies,

In your embrace, the spirit flies.

A haven of beauty, pure and grand,

A jewel of the ocean, a timeless land.
